

POPE SENDS GOOD WISHES TO KAISER

German Foreign Secretary Given a Cordial Reception by the Pontiff.

ROME, Oct. 25.—The Pope to-day received the German Foreign Secretary, Herr von Tschirsky, and Baron von Tschirsky, who were accompanied by the Prussian Minister to the Vatican, Baron von Hottelmann.

In the papal ante-chamber Herr von Tschirsky met Cardinal Agilardi, Vice-Chancellor of the Holy Roman Church, who formerly was Papal Nuncio at Munich, and therefore thoroughly conversant with German affairs, who had been received by the Pope previous to the arrival of the German Foreign Secretary.

Cardinal Agilardi had a brief conversation with Herr von Tschirsky, after which the latter was admitted to the papal library, the Pope meeting him, his wife and Baron von Hottelmann, at the door.

The Pontiff then asked his visitors to take seats, and entered into a cordial conversation with them, which lasted half an hour. Herr von Tschirsky conveyed to the Pope Emperor William's best wishes, and the Pontiff in return sent the Kaiser his warmest greetings.

It was observed that Herr von Tschirsky followed the present of Emperor William in going to the Vatican. He first went to the Prussian Legation to the Holy See, where he left the carriage belonging to the German Embassy to the Italian Government, and took the carriage of Baron von Hottelmann, in which he drove to the Vatican.

CHASED WIFE OUT WITH REVOLVER

Then Gabes Fought Policeman Who Went to House to Arrest Him—Sent to Island.

BE ABUS declined to go upon the straw and earn a living for him. Just after Gabes, wife of seven weeks, was in Yorkville Court to-day that he threatened to kill her.

After Magistrate Finelli sent the man, Gabes, to the island for six months.

Mr. Gabes ran up to Policeman Klein last night, apparently in object to arrest, and said her husband had chased her out of her home at No. 10133. After she had refused to walk the streets, Kettler went to the cat and found Gabes in the kitchen with a pistol in his hand. The two men fought all over the kitchen before Kettler conquered the husband. In the prisoner's pocket Kettler found a small bottle labelled "poison" and containing a colorless liquid. Gabes said it was a toothache remedy.

Gabes said his wife had grown tired of him and merely sought an excuse for having him sent away.

The weaves are the creations of master designers, and both in their lines and in the fabrics in which they are expressed they reflect the best fashions for men, with skillful adaptation to more youthful wearers.

We guarantee quality and satisfaction, and will give a new suit or refund money for any suit that fails in service.

A $12.75 Kersey Coat for $9.50

NO chance to mistake the value of this garment—it has been in our own stock at $12.75 within a week.

Good value at that price, too—better than the average $12.75 coat or it wouldn't have been here at that price. Now we take $3.25 off the price on a small special lot of the same garments, picked up from the same maker.

Made of a good, lustrous, firm black kersey—none of the half-cotton mixtures that are freely masquerading under that name, but an honest, soft, good-all-through kersey that will stand wear and wet. Style as shown in cut.

Made full 50 inches long, with the right circular back. Trimmed with velvet and Hercules braid. Lined throughout—body and sleeves—with heavy black satin.

Saturday's very special price... $9.50

A Tourist Coat at $5

The especial wonder of this coat is the dependable quality of the tweed from which it is made. Please don't get the idea that this is the cotton stuff from which the average $5 coat is made. We don't handle that kind—or any kind of trash. This is a material that will give you good, long, satisfactory wear under the hardest conditions. In shades of gray, with velvet or self collars and cuffs. Natty and stylish and good. Saturday only at $5 (Siegel Cooper Store, Second Floor, Center.)
